

new environmental champions are in town.

We could have done this for Conference transfers...

...but we chose the green move instead.

bus and coach: a green move for our future!

Buses and coaches are the cleanest way to travel. Period.

When you travel by bus and coach, your individual carbon footprint is smaller than with any other transport mode, regardless the distance.

It is important to change perceptions and encourage people to travel collectively by bus and coach to reduce our negative impact on the environment.

Give your car a much needed break and take the bus!
